Since I became the Executive Director three years ago, I have been thinking about how to bring art to more people, to be more inclusive and to ensure everyone who wants art in their lives has access to it.

At Davis Arts Center, we are expanding our programs to accommodate those families who have longer work schedules. This includes longer classes and programs to bridge multiple classes. We have increased our scholarship program so more classes are now financially accessible. We have added outreach programs that help us to serve the community in diverse ways. For example, last summer, we provided art activities at Davis Commons on Tuesdays. We applied what we learned from the Davis Commons' experience and were awarded a grant that will allow us to provide arts experiences to the community in new and exciting ways.

I am excited to announce the expansion of our need-based scholarship program. Thanks to the Kiwanis Club of Davis and Friends of Rainbow City, Davis Arts Center has additional funds to expand our scholarship program. Starting August 15, we will have a new scholarship form available for the Fall Season. While the expanded scholarship program still asks that students pay a portion of the class costs, we are opening it to more than one scholarship per-family annually.

Davis Arts Center was awarded a grant through the Yolo Community Foundation to expand our programs in both Davis and greater Yolo County. The grant funds two projects, the first is a partnership with First 5 Yolo to teach art in their parent-child PlaySchool Experiences throughout Yolo County. The second program, "Petite Studio," is a drop-in art play for adult-accompanied children ages 2-5 at Davis Arts Center on Tuesdays in August and Wednesdays, in September (see page 17 for details).

Both of these are experiments in providing art that is more free form and imagination based than through classroom instruction. We look forward to learning from both programs.

As Executive Director, one of my key roles is to raise funds for Davis Arts Center, which includes monies for our scholarship program. Raising scholarship funds helps us to succeed in our mission, to help bring art to everyone in our community. If you would like to help us expand our scholarship program, please contact me. I would love to work with you!

We know these programs are just a start to reaching our goals of making sure everyone has access to art. We will keep working on it and thank our community for helping through their donations and wonderful ideas.

We will also understand micronarratives, or how to tell a story in a very short space and time.

Teach Another Language to Kids

Three language options: American Sign Language, French, Spanish!

Give your child the gift of a second language from an early age! TALK classes provide daily language exposure for children in Kindergarten through 6th grade in French and Spanish, and up to 8th grade for American Sign Language, through games, songs, art projects, stories and plays.

Classes are offered on-site for children attending Birch Lane, Korematsu, North Davis, Patwin, Pioneer and Saint James elementary schools. Children attending North Davis Elementary School may also attend classes at the Davis Arts Center or Saint James School, after which they are walked to school with a teacher.

Minimum class size is 6, maximum is 10. Classes may be cancelled or combined due to low enrollment. Classes generally follow the Davis Joint Unified School District calendar (as well as the Saint James calendar for ASL at that site), and do not meet on school holidays.

Class fees are due in full by the first day of class. Refunds will be provided through the second week of class. Limited scholarships are available. Fall scholarship applications are due by Sept. 13. Parents must re-apply for scholarships each semester.

TALK is a non-profit community organization run by parent volunteers since 1992. Check out our web page at <http://groups.dcn.org/talk>, or see our blog at <http://talkdavis.blogspot.com>!
